The King can drink the best of wine-And has enough when he would dine— So have I! And cannot order rain or shine-Nor can I! Then where's the difference, let me see, Betwixt my Lord the King and me?

Do trusty friends surround his throne
Night and day?
Or make his interest their own? No, not they!
Mine love me for myself alone—
Blessed be they!
And that's one difference which I see
Betwixt my Lord the King and me!

Do knaves around me lie in wait
To deceive?
Or fawn and flatter when they hate,
And would grieve! And would grieve!
Or cruel pomps oppress my state—
By my leave?
No! Heav'n be thank'd! And here you see
More difference 'twixt the King and me!

He has his fools, with jests and quips, When he'd play; He has his armies and his ships— Great are they! child to kiss his lips, Well-a-day!
And that's a difference sad to see
Betwixt my Lord the King and me!

I wear the cap and he the crown— What of that! I sleep on straw and he on down— What of that!
And he's the King and I'm the clown—
What of that?
If happy I, and wretched he.

Appended to the work is the able address of Dr. S. S. Satchwell, of New Hanover, for a separate copy of which we are also indebted to Messrs. Fulton & Price, of which we will simply say it ought to be not only in the hands of every physician, but in that of every head of a family in the State. Like every thing that emanates from Dr. Satchwell's pen, it is burning with patriotism—an ardent love for his native State and for the advancement of medical science. We have read this address with unusual interest and profit, and commend it to the attention of all liberal men throughout the State. It advocates, in glowing language, the cause of education, although that branch of the subject is discussed incidentally.—Goldsboro' Tribune.

"Medicine is an elaborate science; or rather it is the science of sciences. It is based on all the natural sciences.—
Chemistry, botany, physical and mental science, geology and mineralogy, are all laid under contributions by medical science. Some of the finest illustrations of principles of natural philosophy are seen in the human body. It is well known, that to acquire a knowledge of these natural sciences, requires mental culture, logical acumen, capacity to think and to investigate. The mind must be well trained before it can grasp them. And yet, young men plunge into medical science—the most subtle, comprehensive, and complicated of all the sciences, not only without this mental discipline, not only without a knowledge of these natural sciences, but unable to read the Latin of their diplomas, or to write and speak their mother tongue correctly.

to read the Latin of their diplomas, or to write and speak their mother tongue correctly.

"Among regularly licensed practitioners, how many are there who know the botany of medical plants—those beneficent productions of nature to relieve the ills of life; how many understand the acostic principles of the stethescope, now used by nearly every physician; how many have ever looked through, or know the principles or construction of the microscope, that valuable auxiliary of modern scientific investigation? Of the fifteen hundred graduates that annually issue from the medical celleges of the Union, how many are there that have that mental training and knowledge of these preliminary studies, so indispensible to him who would know the labyrinthian ways of our science?

The subject of the address is "The Obstacles to Medical Progress" and amongst the variety of "obstacles" the speaker classes unprepared and illiterate practioners. There is a world of truth in the following:

"I need not say that tortuous and rugged is the way that leads to the practice of medicine. He would revel in the luxuries that lie waiting in her golden temple, must expect to do so, not by the arts of legerdemain, or the tricks of demagoguism, but by long, laborious, mental application,—ardent love of truth—skillful interpretation of the laws of nature, is the price he must pay. The ever-varying phenomena of lite, in health and disease, the wide domain and diversified character of remedial agencies, the sound judgment and active sympathies necessary to constitute a successful practice of our heaven-born science, demand of the head and expected that, following the custom on like occasions, I should indulge in eulogy of the departed friend whose memory we have met to honor; and were I terials upon which to draw. But, Sir, here, in the on the development of the recent Italian plot. place of Mr. Dobbin's nativity, among those who have known him from childhood, and have watched with delight his unobstructed passage towards distinction, among those who loved him well, because they knew him intimately, praise would be a work of supererogation; nor, were I disposed to the attempt, could I add anything to what you, Sir, have so beautifully expressed. This afflicting event had been anticipated for months. The joy with which his family and friends welcomed him back, at the end of his official lators at Washington, was tempered by the conviction forced upon all who looked upon him, that his earthly career was soon to close. A kind Providence mercifully sustained him to the full performance of all his duties, and benignantly spared him to reach the loved haunts of his youth, and the dear spot of his nativity, to breathe among us the last sigh of his departing spirit.

Endowed by nature with that rare quality of mind and temperament which lifts its possessor above all bias, and superior to all prejudice, while in the various employments and positions to which the partial favor of the people, and his party, called him, he tulfilled all his duties with admitted skill and honest administration, he secured and maintained the confidence and esteem of those, even, who differed from knowing him intimately from chilhood to manhood, amid the rivalries of the school days, which are but types of the serious collisions of the great world, with opportunities to observe him closely in that higher career he was destined to run, and did so successfully run, I may be allowed to hear my testimony to his worth, to his purity of morals, integrity of character, and kindness of heart. Nature has indeed endowed him, with prodigal liberality, with all those qualites which command that the United States of America, as they now ex. too often leads to unpleasant collisions and painful ist, can be considered as confined to the Anglo-Saxon whige! - Washington Union 6th inst. disruptions of friendship. It must ever be so, to some race. It is a matter of fair truth to say to you that extent at least, in our imperfect natures. It was his singular good fortune, however, so to walk as scarcely to crush, in the path of his progression, a single flower of friendship or affection,—or hardly to excite those with whom his late office brought him into intimate association, I have had extensive means of judging. In the course of a confidential communication with the distinguished Chief of the late Administhe tender sess of feeting attachment evinced towards him, and my pride of birth-place was aroused by the bindly accommodate them. Now, all these races blended together constitute the national character of the Unitration, personal to MR. Dobbin, I was struck with kindly encomiums pronounced upon him, the confi-dence reposed in him, the weight attached to his opinion, and the value assigned to his services. He has gone, Sir, full of honor, with no cloud to obscure h s fame or dim the brightness of his character, and all that to us remains to do, is to pay to his memory the tribute of respect, alike due to him and due from us.

I propose the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the people of Fayetteville have heard with unaffected grief the sad intelligence of the death of the esteemed friend and fellow-citizen, the late James C. Dobbin; an event the pain of which has not been softened nor diminished by its expectation for some months. Endeared to them by his urbanity of manners, purity of morals, and those shining virtues which adorn human nature, they mourn the departure from among them of the emipent patriot, the loyal citizen, and the christian gentleman. Finishing a career of honorable usefulness in the distinguished position to which he had been called in the federal government, in the administration of the duties of which he had secured the good opinion of the whole country, wasted by disease, and broken down in constitution by his labors, he returned to the bosom of his family circle, to die among the people of his native town, who had known him long, and loved him well. Resolved, That the people of Fayetteville have heard with

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with his afflicted family on this sad bereavement, and condole with them on their and our common loss; and with the desire of publicly their and our common loss; and with the desire of publicly demonstrating our respect for his memory, the Mayor be requested to solicit for us the privilege of superintending the funeral ceremonies, and that to this end he name a committee of eight persons to make proper arrangements, of which due notice shall be given.

Resolved, That the Mayor be requested to cause the proceedings of this meeting to be filed with the Town records, and that a cepy be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

VOTE OF RICHMOND COUNTY .- Congress-Wins low, 302 : Meares 238. Free Suffrage-for, 575 against, 174. Railroad Subscription-for. 424 against, 278.

R. S. McDonald was elected Clerk of the Superior Court, and L. H. Webb, Clerk of the County Court. The vote on Railroad Subscription is not as unanimous as that of Anson, nor indeed as much so as its friends in Richmond County had hoped for, but equally as good for all practical purposes.

A great effort had been made by General Dockery to prevent the people from voting for Winslow. He had followed him to three precincts in the county. indulging in his usual violent abuse of the Democratic party, and extravagant laudations of the American-Whig party and the glorious prospects of its speedy triumph, privately advising those whom he considered the faithful, that it was expected of them to vote for Meares. Notwithstanding all this, a majority of those who voted supported Winslow. As it has resulted, but a poor compliment was paid to Mr. Meares, and it is to be regretted that the indiscretion of over-zealous persons placed a gentleman, personally so worthy of respect, in a position which he himself did not seek, and which the public feeling would not sustain.

THE FIRST DISTRICT .- At length, we think, suspense is at an end, and it seems to be definitely ascertained that Dr. Shaw is elected. Yesterday at noon, it was positively stated at Weldon that Shaw's majority was 13. The Raleigh Standard gives it as 12 majority for Shaw. It is a close shave, but it was expected to be so. The delegation from this State, will stand 7 Democrats to 1 opposition.

The Indian Mutiny.

Such an event as this Indian mutiny makes us un derstand the disasters of sixty years since, and the coolness with which they seem to have been received. * * * The coolness and concentration in his own concerns which mark the Englishman are fully shown in the aspect of society at the present moment, when the most alarming trial which the country has had of late years is upon us. Who seems to feel that the army of an immense empire has revolted, that a cani tal city is in the hands of an enemy instructed by ourselves in the military art, and that a few days but for your noble attachment to the gallant and tried may bring the news that British power exists only in a few forts or a few cities of the coast? Delhi, the I hope will be your representative at some future capital of Mahomedan India, the residence of the time. (Cries of "bribery!") In the meantime all India is looking out for news from Delhi.

In the usual style of our countrymen we will assume that everything that can be done will be done, and that complete victory will crown the exertions of the Indian generals. It is to be trusted that when tranquility is once more restored, the government will this:—" That I was for having the people amused many years, and during the last quarter of a century since has increased wonderfully the traffic of manbut I did my duty as an honest man, and stated what my opinion was. Architecture and Engineering among the Antientr-Amongst all the wonders that arrest the attention and claim the admiration of the pilgrim to Jerusa-lem, the Cyclopean architecture of the S. E. and S. W. corners of the Temple Enclosure, and the remains of Solomon's Bridge are perhaps the most astounding. No wonder that "there was no more spirit" in the good Queen of Sheba, as evidenced by the declaration that the half had not been told her when she saw his acts, and especially his chef d'ouvrethe assent by which he went up into the "House of the Lord" by the wonderful Bridge spanning the Tyropean Valley, and thus affording access to the Temple Mount from the Hill Zion. Over this immense structure ran the aqueduct conveying the water from his magnificent reservoirs (still bearing his name) through firmly cemented stone work six miles long, traceable at the present time through the vil-lage of Bethlehem to Mount Moriah, where it empties itself into an immense subterranean pool for the use of the Priests in their abbutions. The Temple, and in some measure, the city was supplied from its inexhaustable source-" The Fountain Sealed." The subterranean rooms beneath these pools, with the keystone arches, identify its construction with the reign of Solomon—thus destroying the general belief that it is of Roman origin.

Whence came these immense masses of rock in the Temple wall, and how were they raised to their present position? Some of the stones measured eighty feet in length, and may now be seen more than fifty feet above the surface of the ground. However parodoxical this Solomonic work may be to the conjecturing traveller, and until now to the learned antiquarian, this mystery has at last been solved by a most interesting and important discovery made by Dr. Barclay, for some years an American missionary at Jerusalem, and author of a forthcoming work, entitled "The City of the G.eat King."

While a resident of the holy city, having heard rague accounts of an immense cavern beneath the city, he was constantly on the alert to gain any in-formation that might lead to the precise locality of this interesting place. On walking around the northern wall, immediately opposite the cave of Jeremiah, (as long as the jealous eye of the Turk would allow, in the immediate vicinity of the Damascus gate, which is kept under constant guard,) his attention was attracted by his dog, apparently on the scent for game or food, for which he forthwith commenced active mining operations with his fore paws, and soon effected an entrance. No time was lost in crawling in, feet foremost, through a narrow hole barely large enough to admit the body. A complete exploration of this gigantic artificial quarry occupied the entire night. The plot shows it to be more than a thousand feet in circumference, with immense labaryn-

We cannot refrain from calling the attention of our readers to an advertisement in this day's paper of the "Hair Restorative" of Prof. O. J. Wood & Co., of St. Louis .-It will be seen that he has numerous certificates from per sons of the highest character to the merits of his Restorative. From positive knowledge we are also enabled to say, in that city on the 17th of August, 1780, and until that it is in every sense what it professes to be, and we do not We have seen it arrest threatened baldness, and restore to the head its original profusion of natural and glossy hair, and when the latter has been prematurely tinged with gray, we have seen it like magic restore the colors of youth and health. The distinguished property of this, we might truly say, miraculous " Restorative," is that it gives to the person who uses it, the same head of hair that they wore in youth, thus acting in strict compliance with the rules of the first and greatest of all toilet makers-Nature. No one who has used it will hesitate to unite with us in this testimony to its peculiar merit .- Covington (Ia.) People's Friend.

BŒRHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS. THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA, DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS, LIVER COMPLAINT, WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND, FEVER AND AGUE.

AND THE VARIOUS AFFECTIONS consquent upon s disordered STOMACH OR LIVER, such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others, effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly ronderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally in-stantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties. CAUTION!

The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Bærhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

REVIEW OF THE WILMINGTON MARKET. FOR THE WEEK ENDING AUGUST 13th, 1857. TURPENTINE. - By reference to our table below it will be

TURPENTINE.—By reference to our table below it will be observed that prices have fluctuated for both virgin and yellow dip since our lest review—closing at an advance of 25 cents on the former and 15 cents on the latter quality.—

There is very little hard arriving, and it remains as last reported—$1 50 per 280 lts. We notice a moderate enquiry existing for shipping and distilling purposes, and the market appears firm at quotations in table. The receipts for the past week have been small, though larger than those of the previous one, and the transactions foot up 4,64 bbls., as follows:

Bbls. Vir. Yel. Dip. Hard

Bbls. Vir. Yel. Dip.

Thursday 116 $3.75 $2.86 $...

Friday 500 $75 2.95 $...

demand. Receipts meagre, and the quantity offering sale is small. We quote sales of only about 1,800 bbls. at $3, $4 50, $5, $5 50 a $6 per bbl.. as in quality—best pale selling readily at highest figure. For No. 2 there appears to be but little enquiry, and we have only small sales to report at $1 40 a $1 55 per bbl.

TAR.—We note considerable demand for this article, TAR.— We note considerable demand for this article, and none of consequence brought in. Only two small lots (100 bbls.) have been received that we can hear of, and taken at $1 45 a $1 50 per bbl.—market closing firm at highest figure, which is an advance of 5 cents.

BEEF CATTLE, &c.—Beeves continue to be brought in BEEF CATTLE, &c.—Beeves continue to be brought in sparingly, and the market is very poorly supplied; in demand at 5 to 6 cents per lb. for grass fed. An extra article would sell readily at higher figures—say 7 a 7½ cents. No Sheer brought in for a week or two past, that we are aware of, and the stock in butchers' hands has become nearly worked off. We quote at $1 75 to $2 25 cach.

Coffee—Remains without alteration in price, and the stock in store is fully fair. We note only small sales during the week at prices ranging within quotations. See table.

Corn Mfal—Has declined 5 cents since our last. Selling in the small way at $1 20 per bushel.

Cotton—There has been none offering on market for several weeks past, consequently we have no sales to report.—

COTTON—There has been none offering on market for several weeks past, consequently we have no sales to report.—Quotations in table are merely nominal.

EMPTY BARRELS—We have very little change to notice in Spirits Turpentine bargels. The receipts since last review have been fair, and the market is very well supplied at present, while we notice a limited enquiry existing. We quote small sales for the week at from $1.75 to $1.90 each for second hand ones, as in quality; a few small lots, however, of selected have brought $2.

FLOUE—The market has continued to rule inactive since our last at a shade decline, as the impression seems to prevail among dealers that prices must further recede, consequently they purchase no mere than is sufficient for their immediate wants, and rates are too high for shipment. The receipts of State brands have been confined to small lots per railroad, and the stock in first hands is light, though fully adequate for the demand. At present prices are rather unsettled, and some small lots have sold at $7.50 for superfine, and $7.75 for superfine and family. We quote as follows:

300 Round Shaves—L. Wood's make;
30 Ploughs do do;
10 bbls. Soda Biscuit;
5 cases shoes—assorted qualities;
75 reams Wrapping Paper;
5 bbls No. 1 Mackerel; besides a good many other avitiels too numerous to mention, which will be sold low for cash by

G. PRIGGE,
Nov. 28th.

The best stock of Valinceinec Real and Luces always kept by July 24.

Settled, and some small lots have nold at $7 50 for superfine, and $7 75 for superfine $7 80 a $7 75, superfine $7 80 a $7 8 a $7 8

822 do. at $1; $,500 do. at $1 01; and 1,000 do. (heavy yellow) at $1 05;—the balance has gone into store. There is now a fair stock in dealers hands, and no disposition to operate further. We quote a good article as firm at 95 cents a $1.—OATS—Nothing done in the absence of receipts, and the stock on market is very small. Quotations in table are nominal.—PEAS—Are in demand, and but few arriving. Two or three small percels of Cow have been received, and sold from vessel at $1 25 per bushel.—Rick —Clean remains without alteration in price, and we notice a fair stock in store. Selling in the small way at 5 cents per 16.—Wheat—The receipts since our last comprise about 16,000 bushels, the larger portion of which, however, had been previously sold, and is going on shipboard. On Friday last 200 bushels went at $1 45 for red, at $1 55 per bushel for white;—no transactions since. There appears to be a fair enquiry from buyers, and above figures are freely offered, but sellers are demanding 5 cents advance.

HAY—Since our last review the receipts have been fully fair, and the market has ruled decidedly dull at a decline.—The stock in dealers' hands is heavy, and they show no disposition to operate further at present. The arrivals comprise some 773 bales Northern, and 70 do. Eastern; the latter sold at $1 10. Seless of 137 bales of the former at 62½ cents, 90 days; and 236 do. do (damaged) at auction, at prices ranging from 57½ to 77½ cents per 100 lbs., as in quality;—the balance remains unsold.

Lime—The stock in dealers' hands is large, and we note very little den.and. See table for rates. A lot of 400 casks was received a few days since, and sold on private terms.

Molasses—Cuba is in moderate stock, and demand limited. We quote from wharf at 53 a 54 cents in hhds., and from store 58 a 60 cents in bbls.

Molasses—Cuba is in moderate stock, and demand limited. We quote from wharf at 53 a 54 cents in hhds., and from store 58 a 60 cents in bbls.

Potators—Irish arrive sparingly, and sell from carts at 75 to 90 cents per bushel, according to quality.

Provisions—For N. C. cured Bacon the market remains without material change, and prices rule high. The receipts for the week have been larger than for some time past, and dealers show less disposition to purchase at present figures. The stock in first hands, however, is very light. We report sales of only about 7 a 5,000 lbs. at 18 cents for hams, and 17 cents per lb. for hog round. The receipts of Western cured have been moderate, which have somewhat replenished the market, as the limited receipts for some weeks previous had caused the stock to become pretty much worked off.—We note a fair demand, and the market rules firm, with sales from store at 13 a 13½ cents for shoulders; and 15 cents per lb. for sides. Only one or two small parcels of sugar cured hams on market, which are selling at 16 cents.—LARD—The market is almost if not entirely bare of N. C. make, and we notice an active demand. In the absence of sales we quote nominally at 17 a 18 cents, as in quality. Western is also in demand for retailing purposes, and very little on market. We quote small sales from store at 17 cents per lb.—Pork—The receipts of Northern Mess during the past week have been fair, and with a moderate enquiry for the article the market has ruled firm. We quote at $25 to $27 per bbl., according to quantity and quality.

Salt—The market is rather better supplied with Liverpool ground, and prices are a shade lower. We note the receipt coastwise of about 3,500 sacks, which have changed hands at 92½ a 97½ cents per sack, 90 days—last sales being at lowest figure. Selling from store at $1 a $1 10, as in quantity. No arrivals of Alum; there is a full stock of former receipts, however, and but a light demand. We quote from store at 30

EHINGLES—Arrive sparingly, and are dull of sale. Only a few small boat loads of Common brought in, and sold at $2 a $2 12½ per M. See table for quotations of Contract.

Staves—Sale a day or two since of a lot of 20,000 W. O.

Timber.—Remains without change. There is a moderate demand at present for mill purposes, and the light receipts for a few weeks past have tended to keep prices up. Sales of only a few rafts at prices ranging within classified figures.—See table. FREIGHTS-Since our last quite a number of vessels have arrived, and in consequence rates coastwise have materially declined on naval stores. There is a fair amount of produce

Sampson County .- The following, taken from a slip from the Clinton Independent office, is no doubt the official vote of Sampson county:

For Congress-Winslow, 938; Meares, 111. For County Court Clerk -J. R. Beaman, 752; W. C. Draughon, 530. For Free Suffrage, 678; against, 434.

RICHMOND COUNTY .-- A friend has handed us returns from two precincts in Richmond county, as follows: Stewart-Winslow, 27: Meares 29. For Free Suffrage, 22; against it, 37. For sub. to W. C. & Rutherford R. R., 68, and 1 against it. Laurel Hill-Winslow, 42; Meares, 53. For Free Suffrage 39; against it, 29. For sub., 74; against it, 14.

BRUNSWICK COUNTY OFFICIAL .-- For Congress--Winslow 241; Meares 164. County Court Clerk-Drew 280; Prioleau 208; Superior Court Clerk-310; against it 86.

THE FIRST AND SIXTH DISTRICTS .- We are indebted to the courtesy of W. W. Holden, Esq., of the Raleigh Standard for accounts of the vote in the first district. All the counties have been heard from with the exception of Currituck. As the reports now stand, Smith is 426 a-head. Currituck is Dr. Shaw's county. It gave Buchanan 410. A gain of 8 for Shaw and a loss of 8 for Smith would make a tie. The vote will evidently be very close. Dr. Shaw's friends anticipate a gain. The chances are about equal and the full returns will be required to decide the contest. Shaw's chances are still fair.

Scales is certainly elected from the sixth district. All the counties but Ashe have been heard from and Scales' clear gain, so far, is 1227. Less than four hundred gain would have elected him. His majority will be very handsome. A note at the bottom of the slip from the Winston Sentinel Office, to which we are indebted for these details, says :- "It is reported that Williams is elected over Gilmer in the fifth district." This appears almost too good to be true, and certainly requires confirmation. It is not impossible, however, and we know from various sources that Mr. Gilmer has lost heavily, his majority in Guilford being very much reduced indeed, and a flying rumor is about that Williams has either carried Randolph, is about that Williams has either carried Randolph Randolph Randolph Ra or at least gained very largely in that county. The above pamphlet, or, more properly, booklet, has been out for some time, during which we have rather awaited the opinion of others than chosen to obtrude our own. The fact is that our brethren of the press have done us far more than justice in their notices of the typographical execution of the work, going into the merits of the proceedings themselves. This we do not feel ourselves capable of doing, even after a careful perusal, for we eschew quackery in criticism as much as the regularly faculty do in medicine. We propose merely to glance at the contents. Among the proceedings, we find a notice of the death of Dr. Benjamin F. Robinson, of Fayetteville, prepared by Dr James H. Dickson, of Wilmington, which was read and ordered to be published; also resolutions upon the same subject offered by Dr. S. S. Satchwell, of this county. The next Annual Meeting is to be held at Newbern; the Annual Oration to be delivered by Dr. J. Graham Tull, of that place. It is bold and trenchant in its exposure of quackery outside of the pale, and of unprofessional conduct inside of the pale of the regular profession of Medicine. Its style is smooth, yet without sacrificing one iota of strength. Upon the whole, we think the Society is gaining on the confidence of the Profession at large, and is destined to be an important agent in promoting the Col. Cooke to their assistance with all the force un advancement of Medical Science in this State.

EDITORS :-- Permit me through the medi um of your excellent paper, to call the attention of the owners of Goshen Lands to a plan which I wish to submit to their consideration, for the improvemen of the navigation of Goehen. Several efforts have been made with a view to drain the Goshen lands, which have hitherto proved abortive. But should we despair when we know that it can be accomplish ions of those hung on Friday, were being tried by ed? The question then arrises how is it to be done the judges and vigilance committees. Washington, August 6.—The Shawnee (Kansas) Indians having made their selections and locations of two hundred then let their lands be valued by a committee apnointed for that purpose, and taken by the company doing the work, or any one who will advance the money. This plan would seem to be fair and equitable, bearing alone upon those who are benefitted. The benefits accruing to these land-holders are ircalculable, nor are they confined to the owners, but the whole county will be greatly benefitted. This might be easily demonstrated, but it is not necessary here. From the source of Goshen to its confluence is over 20 miles, and will average one mile in width. Thus, you see, we have 12,800 acres of land, not surpassed in point of fertility by any in this State, not even by the Roanoke lands. What a vast amount of wealth here (as it now is almost worthless) might be rendered tributary to the wants of man, should those interested unite and make one more effort. I GOSHEN.

BRITISH INDIA.—Its population, resources, &c.—The insur-rection of the native troops in India has had the effect of drawing out much information relative to that most impor-tant of all the colonial dependencies of England. Nearly a million and a half pounds sterling are paid—unless some of them have lapsed within a few years—in pensions to conquered native princes. The King of Delhi (the Mogul) receives an-nually £150,000; the Nawab of Bengal, £160,000; the Nawab population, according to the latest corrected returns, of 158, 774,065, and now estimated at about two hundred millions. The territory is distributed into four governments or presidencies—Bengal, Madres, Bombay, and Agra. Bengal is the seat of the Governor-General and the Supreme Council, Madras and Bombay have each a Governor and Council, and Agra has a Lieutenant-Governor without a Council. The total military force at the disposal of the Governor-General is about 322,000 men. Of these 20,480 are Queen's troops; 20,000 company's European troops, 240,000 company's native troops, and 32,000 are native contingents, commanded by British officers and available under treaties. The company in which Moore was, had no thought of accepting this comprehensive challenge; they were rather interested at the boldness of the challenger, than at its unusualness for such chalenges, though they have gone out at the West, were not uncommon then. The stranger proceeded up street, till he came to Clemmen's tavern,* about two hundred yards above. Here he alighted, fastened his horse, went in, and, as was the custom then, called for a tickler, or half-pint of whiskey. When the strange challenger passed by, Moore rose from his resting place, and, on seeing him go in Clemmen's tavern, he sauntered, apparently very carelessly, up that way. Before leaving he said nothing to any body. His company supported, if they thought at all about it, that he was going home, as his own dwelling house was about a third of the way towards Clemmens' .-But having reached it, he continued his walk towards Clemmens'. This attracted the attention of the friends to had left, for they, well knowing his character, expected every moment to hear the shout of battle. Those who had run up to see how things were going, now walked into the house, where they saw the challenger washing the blood off his badly-bruised head and face, and having a large portion of one of his ears, or of his nose -not now recollected which-bitten off by Moore in the affray. Captain Moore, about whom we have related the foregoing anecdote, was the father of Thomas P. Moore, a member of Congress, a warm partizan of Presidents Jackson and VanBuren, and afterwards appointed by the latter Minister to Colombia. The captain died while his son was quite young, though he received as good an education as was then common in Kentucky. Soon after he grew up, he removed from his native village, which was at one end of the county as then organized, to another more central. At his new residence he tried almost every means to make himself popular, with a view of being elected to the Legislature-to which he was soon sent. He was restless, active, energetic. John Wilson, generally called Pat. Wilson, a strong, stout Irishman, and not at all averse to fighing, had said something disparaging about Moore, which Moore had determined to avenge himself for. Moore being, one day, in his native village, where he was not very popular, and where Witson resided, asked W. about it on the street. On Wilson's affirming the truth of what he had said, and not supposing that one of Moore's small figure, compared with his, would venture to attack him, "Little make a faithful and efficient teacher of youth.

Tom," for he was so called, flew at him with the (Signed) M. FELTER, Prof. of Greek. Tom," for he was so called, flew at him with the agility of a cat, and fastened on him with the venom of one. Before Wilson could arouse himself from his laziness, or well known what was going on, Moore had pummelled him soundly about the head and face, and bitten off part of his upper lip. The people ian from all directions to know what was the matter; but before they had well gotten to the place, Moore had disengaged himself from Wilson, was on his horse, and going homeward before any new quarrel could be raised. He appears, however, to have inherited from his father his biting qualities, his quickness and courage, too. He died in the summer of 1853 †

*Jeremiah Clemmens, who kept the house, almost time out of mind, was uncle of the late Senator Jeremiah Clemmens from Alabama, who was called after him. Let it not be sup osed that Clemmens kept a mere rowdy house, because m of the fighting was donc—for he did not. It was abundantly provided and substantially well-attended for all sorts of people. It was not, to be sure, the most fashionable hotel in the place, yet it was not expected that the rowdies would ever intrude into that end of the house, prepared for the accomposition of the orderly and oniet. er intrude into that end of the house, prepared for the accommodation of the orderly and quiet.

In the settlement of Kentucky, biting was as allowable in a fight as anything else was, unless a previous bargain was made by the combatants, forbidding it. Bargains against other demoniacal accomplishments were also made. But some will say, that Moore's biting off a nose or an ear was equally heroically with Achilles dragging the dead body of Hector round the walls of Troy, after having refused to give it up, at the entreaties of his aged father.

Wide West, San Francisco. THE TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT NIAGARA FALLS.—The Rochester Democrat of August 3 says :

"An accident of a serious character occurred at Niagara Falls yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock. It appears that, as usual, a number of persons were strolling about visiting the various localities of interest, and a number had descended the Biddle stairs to the beach of the river, and gone towards the foot of the cataract. Suddenly an immense overhanging rock, weighing probably from thirty to fifty tons, became detached from the bank above them, and fell with a tremendous crash to the bottom. The concussion was so great as to split it into fragments, and from Cleveland, Ohio, it is feared fatally. The others were a gentleman who was stopping at the Cataract House, whose name we have been unable to learn, and a boy about fourteen years of age, who resides in the village of Niagara. This boy had his leg broken, and the gentleman at the Cataract House had, as we understand, both a leg and arm broken. " Mr. Parsons, however, who is a guest at the Clarendon, was the principal sufferer. One piece of the rock struck him in the head, causing a dangerous fracture of the skull, and an ther piece crushed one of his hips in a frightful manner. He was immediately taken to the hotel, and surgical assistance procured. The professional gentleman who attended him expressed, as we understand, but little hopes of his recovery. ENORMOUS TUMOR .- On Wednesday the 29th of July, we witnessed the removal of a large tumor from the body of a negro woman belonging to Dr. A. Holmes of this place. The tumor was first no. ticed about 8 months previous to its removal. The patient was placed under the influence of Cloroform and Ether combined, and an incision of 15 or 16 inches made upon the distended abdomen, when an enormous fibro-cartilaginous tumor was exposed, and removed. The tumor after being dripped of a considerable amount of water and blood, weighed 24 lbs. Had it been weighed before dripping it would doubtless have gone to 26 pounds. The patient though extremely weak at the begining sustained the operation well, and is at this writing five days after, doing well. Drs. A. Holmes, H. A. Bizzell, J. A. Bizzell, W. G. Micks performed each their part in the work, Dr. Holmes doing the cutting. This is one of the largest tumors ever taken from a human body. It was attached to the right Ovary below. and to the Omentum above. On dissection it presented irregular bony matter, cartilage, hair, fatty matter, brain, brainy tissue, and numerous cells filled with water and puss. It was an extraordinary case. YANKEE, ALL OVER.—Bayard Taylor says that a Yankee, in walking in St. Petersburg, one muddy day, met the Grand Duke Constantine. The side-walk was not wide enough for two to pass, and the street was very deep in filth—whereupon the American took a silver rouble from his pocket, shook it in his closed hand, and cried out: "Crown or tail?" "Crown!" guessed the Grand Duke. "Your Highness has won," said the American, looking at the rouble and stepping into the mud. The next day the Yankee was invited by the
